Larry Killeen Named Executive Director

Port Commissioners announced today the hiring of Larry Killeen as the new executive director of the Port of Tacoma. Killeen, currently senior director of facilities at the Port of Seattle, brings an extensive background in port operations as well as in real estate to his new position. According to Port Commission President Jack Fabulich, "I think we have chosen an outstanding man for the job."

Killeen is optimistic about his new position. "I'm very excited about the Port of Tacoma, because I think the Port has great growth potential. It's a start of a new era. I see major growth in downtown Tacoma. I see the new Sheraton Hotel, I see Sea-Land coming here, and I see a great future. I want to be a part of that, and that's why I'm here."

In his six years with the Port of Seattle, Killeen served as director of real estate for three years prior to becoming senior director of facilities. As senior director, he was responsible for 250 employees, in addition he had responsibility for facilities, real estate, engineering and planning at both the seaport and the airport.

Killeen was selected after an extensive nationwide search conducted for the Port Commission by Heidrick and Struggles, Inc. The firm reviewed over 150 potential candidates before making its preliminary recommendations to the Commission. Killeen, who is 44 years old, was born in Brooklyn and raised in Long Island. He received his MBA from Pepperdine University in Los Angeles, California in 1978.

Killeen succeeds Richard Dale Smith, who retired from the Port April 30 of this year after serving as executive director for over eight years.

MONDALE

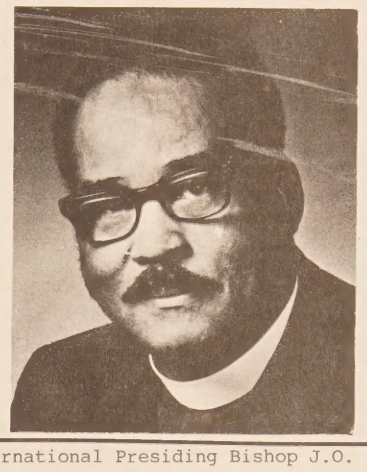
Walter Mondale is undergoing pressure to select with a female or a southerner as his running mate. On the selection of a female, "I think its a little bit more than I expected."

One Mondale adviser said of the increasing sentiment to choose a woman. "I think its building rapidly, but the focus has to be: WHO".

The woman most often mentioned is Rep. Geraldine A. Ferraro (D-N.Y.) Chairman of the Democratic Platform Committee and the Choice of House speaker Thomas P. (TIP) O'Neill Jr. (D-Mass).

As a democratic nominee, Mondale said he will seek "someone who is fully qualified to be president," as well as someone with whom he is compatible.

Bishop J.O. Patterson To Speak During C.O.G.I.C. State Convocation



International Presiding Bishop J.O. Patterson of the Churches of God in Christ to speak at the Washington State Convocation on June 21, 1984, at the Tacoma Dome Convention Hall during the evening worship Service which begins at 7:00 pm.

Bishop Patterson is a dynamic orator and travels far and near to different states and abroad setting things in order, the different things that are needed.

Washington State has always enjoyed his message of deliverance, and we now are in dire need of his wisdom and leadership concerning our great state of Washington. We know that his message will stir the peoples minds and will enhance the leadership of all demonnations.

God's leaders are born to lead, and Bishop Patterson is one of the very few that God has blessed in this world of chaos, therefore he is greatly appreciated by most people that hear him.

Bishop Patterson has deployed the selling in the churches to promigate the gospel of Christ. One of his first messages that he brought to Washington State was to tell the church people that they did not need to have fish fries or chicken dinners to build churches. He is quoted in saying "Gods plan is sufficient to supply the needs of the churches".

Shirley Chisholm Spellbounds Audience

Friday, June 8, Westin Hotel, Seattle, was the place for the dynamic keynote speaker Shirley Chisholm. Chisholm kept the audience on the edge of their seats during the Women + Business Convention sponsored by the Seattle Times/P.I.

This eloquent, political business woman spoke to a packed house of business and professional people, particularly women.

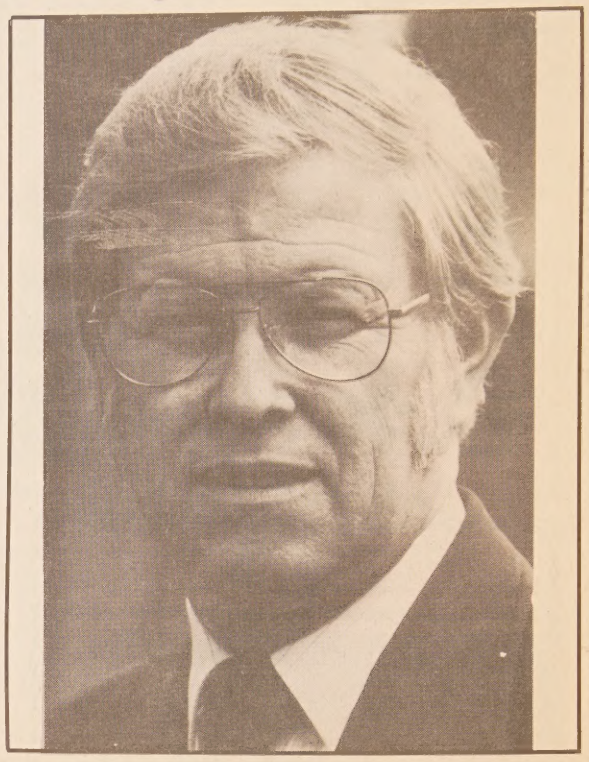
Concerning her success, Chisholm credited her grandmother with influencing her life. She spoke of the great strides made by women today. "Women have moved mountains." "Changes have never come from shrinking violets, but by faith in God and vision."

Chisholm cited a need for America to come to the same realization as other countries such as Japan, Sweden, and Israel in its ideas about women, their needs and contributions.

She commented about St. Paul and other learned men in making herpoint about the current role of women. "There was a time when the family --- was a husband, wife, and children, but not so today." She stressed the need for equal pay for equal work regardless of gender. Chisholm also pointed out the need for day care centers to allow women to learn and prepare themselves for the workforce, this will decrease the welfare roles and other forms of public assistance. Women in the work place is a necessity and a luxury.

Ms. Chisholm reminded the successful women not to forget the young people, to take the time and visit the schools, etc., and talk to our youth. She cautioned that "the ones you meet on the way up might be the ones you see on your way down. In conclusion of her

Frank Rogers Cites Ineffective Reading In Public Schools



Frank "Corky" Rogers is a concerned citizen who was disturbed by what he claims is inadequate, ineffective reading methods taught by our public schools. "Children don't fail school---educators "fail" students. Many of our youngsters leave school woefully unprepared for adult life despite generous funding of our schools. Delinquency, divorces, underemployment, child abuse, failure to assume responsibilities of marriage, mental problems and drugs are some of the tragic results.

Schools cannot blame the home or TV. Corky is desperately trying to teach children the proper methods of learning to read. He believes that PHONICS are the answers.

A victimized child probably never fully recovers from the damage of improper reading-teaching in the first two years of school. Take ten minutes a day and teach your child phonics at home (start with your second grader--or your teenager!) Attend two (three hour) neighborhood daytime or evening phonics workshops.

Black Voters For Reagan Bush '84 Meet In Washington

LeGree Daniels, Chairman of Black Voters for Reagan-Bush '84, hosted 100 Black Republican leaders from around the country at an organizational meeting at the Shoreham Hotel on June 1st and 2nd.

The meeting was held to form a national strategy for informing Black voters of the real record of accomplishment and goals of the Reagan Administration.

At the meeting, Mrs. Daniels, who is the Chairman of the National Black Republican Council, stated, "We must expose the hypocrisy of the Democrats rhetoric and show Black America just how they have been treated by the failed programs of the Democratic Party."

Mrs. Daniels stated that, "Democratic party rhetoric and programs for years have promised black America a utopia, but have left it in the tragic situation where 47% of black 17 year olds and functionally illiterate; 55% of our black children are born to unwed mothers who are often teenagers; half of 11 black children have no fathers at home; 46% of the 8.8 million working age black males are unemployed, and where black people comprise the greatest percentage of crime victims."

HAVE YOU BELIEVE OUR REPORT?
SERIES # 44
ISAIAH 53: 1&2

Who hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

For he shall grow up before him as a root out of dry ground.

He hath no form nor comiliness: and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.

WORDS OF WISDOM
Psalms 45:

My heart is inditing a good matter; I speak of the things which I have made touching the King: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.

Thou art fairer than the children of men: grace is poured into thy lips: therefore God hath blessed thee for ever.

Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O most Mighty, with thy glory and thy majesty. And in thy majesty ride prosperously, because of truth and meekness and righteousness; and thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.

Thine arrows are sharp in the heart of the King's enemies; whereby the people fall under thee.

Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a right spectre.

Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickedness: therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

All thy garments smell of myrrh, and aloes, and cassia, out of the ivory palaces, whereby they have made thee glad.

Kings' daughters were among thy honcrable women: upon thy right hand did stand the queen in gold of O'phir.

Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear; forget also thine own people, and thy father's house;

So shall the King greatly desire thy beauty: for he is thy Lord; and worship thou him.

And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gift; even the rich among the people shall entreat thy favor. The King's daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of wrought gold.

She shall be brought unto the King is raiment of needlework; the virgins her companions that follow her shall be brought unto thee.

With gladness and rejoicing shall they be brought: they shall enter into the King's palace. Instead of thy fathers shall be thy children, whom thou mayest make princes in all the earth.

I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations: therefore shall the people praise thee for ever and ever.

The Single Life

One of every three adults is single, but being single has its problems. According to Deborah Allen, Assistant Director of the Counseling Center at the University of Illinois at Champaign, there are more singles now than ever before. People are waiting longer before they get married, and they are obtaining divorce more frequently. They are also deciding to remain unmarried in greater numbers. For some reason, quick remarriages after divorce are decreasing.

In some ways, its easier to be single because its more common. But there's a lot of misunderstanding and negative stereotyping of single people. For instance, there is the idea of the single as one who dates 10 or 12 - different people at the same time and is out every night --promiscuity and all of that. On top of that, there's the value that our culture places on being coupled -- if you aren't coupled, there's something very wrong with you.

A lot of very normal, very neat men and women come to me feeling there's something basically wrong with them. Really, the only thing that's wrong, is that they're not in a relationship. And because of the value our culture places on being coupled, they can't feel good about themselve They have self-confidence problems. Despite the problems, there are advantages to being single. One of the best things about being single is having complete control of your life.

BLACK FAMILIES NEEDED

Black families are needed for the many black children who are waiting to be adopted. They may be of any age from infancy to seventeen (17). Some are brothers and sisters who need to be placed in the same family.

Most are healthy, of normal intelligence and may live in any state. To be eligible to adopt a child you may: Rent, or own your own home, live in an apartment, be single, or divorced, have other children, and need not be wealthy. Monies are sometimes available to help meet the extra expense. An informational meeting is held on June 21, 1984 at St. John The Baptist Church, 2001 South 'J' Street, Tacoma, at 7:00 pm.

Electric Rate Hearing Scheduleded

A public hearing on electric rate policy issues will be held on Wednesday, June 20, at 6:00 pm, in the Public Utilities Administration Building Auditorium, South 35th Street and Union Avenue

The purpose of the hearing is to provide an opportunity for Tacoma Light Division ratepayers to comment on a number of policy issues discussed by the Public Utility Board and City Council during the past several months.

The policies will give direction to future planning decisions.

Copies of the draft policies are available from the Department of Public Utilities, Community/Media Services Office, Public Utilities Administrations Building, South 35th Street and Union Avenue, 383-2471, extension 159. Copies also will be available at the hearing.

Pampering Tips For Healthier, Lovelier Feet!!

Slip off your shoes to give feet a breather during the day. Walk barefoot when you can, but (only on a sprngy surface - sand, thick grass, or wall to wall carpet. For hard surfaces, give your feet the protection of a resillient sole.

Shop for shoes in the early afternoon. Feet swell over the course of the day. Shoes bought late in te afternoon can be too loose the next morning; bought in the morning, too tight that night.

Along with everything else about us, our feet change in size. There's even difference in size between the right foot and the left.

For truly comfortable feet, have the salesperson measure both feet and choose the larger size. Stand while being measured, because the foot spreads when weight is applied and you are buying shoes to stand and walk in, not merely to sit in.

Comfortable feet, are the most healthier and the most lovelier feet, so treat them as you would other parts of the body that you pamper.

Come To Church Services

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.
Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea:
Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled, thought the mountains shake with the swelling thereof. Selah. There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the Most High. God is in the midst of her; she shall not be moved: God shall help her, and that right early.
the heathen raged, the kingdoms were moved: he uttered his voice, the earth melted.
The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.
Come, behold the works of the Lord, what desolations he hath made in the earth.
He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth; he breaketh the bow and cutteth the spear in sunder; he burneth the chariot in the fire. Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth. The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.

We welcome news of your church and civic events.

Tacoma Hi Jinks
By Rodney Clark

For the past ten years Tacoma has been the residence of two brothers who are very talented dancers. Tony and Terry McKinnon have at least sixteen years experience between them dancing on the streets of Tacoma. Recently these two individuals were chosen as choreographers for the "Tacoma Hi-Jinks". As choreographers for the Tacoma Hi-Jinks, Tony and Terry have the responsibility of creating new dance moves and steps for this years 84' production.

As do some first year Hi-Jinks' members the McKinnons brothers began their dancing career in local dances, talent shows and street parties. After becoming some of the best dancers on the block the McKinnons were inspired by Sheila "Sweet" Joyce to enter dancing as a career. One of the things that Sheila always told us was "that we had to always be in shape".

Sheila pointed out the importance of training daily and developing self-discipline to exercise as much as possible, said Tony. The McKinnon brothers train six hours a day, and most of that time is spent doing exercising. Without being in shape, it is very difficult to learn new dance moves, said Terry who is the younger of the two brothers.

By developing self-confidence and self-discipline the McKinnon brothers organized a dance troup of young adults like themselves called "Jam Production" consisted of kids who basically had no real training in dance, but taught themselves dance moves and creative choreography to raise money for dance classes.

"Jam Production" was so professional that the group traveled to Los Angeles, Reno, Canada and other places throughout the Pacific Northwest.

By choregraphing the "Tacoma Hi-Jinks" the McKinnons are an inspiration to other dancers who might consider choosing dance as a career. Tony plans to teach choreography to young kids with an emphasis in becoming physically fit. Terry plans to work hard to let street dancing become an art form, part of a university curriculum or even be a part of the Olympics. The McKinnons would also like to attend Cornish Institute for dance to obtain a certificate in choreography.

The McKinnons are also open to any avenues or scholarships to reach their educational goals and objectives.

The McKinnon's have appeared on radio and television numerous times. One rare opportunity that the McKinnons had was to dance with Dergen McBroom of "Flashdance. In closing, a word of advice to young dancers from the McKinnons is, "BE YOURSELF!!! WHATEVER YOU FEEL BE IT!!

Tony Brown's Comments

Blacks Answer Richard Pryor

For two weeks in a row on television with me, superstar Richard Pryor opened himself up and let the American public in on his most intimate feelings and experiences.

The millions who watched were obviously moved by what he had to say.

We've all laughed with Richard Pryor. Now it's time for some of us to cry with him. Listen: "If there's a hell, I've been there. There is a hell. And the devil turned out to be me."

He also reveals the depth of his unhappiness. "Look at the opportunity I've been given to do so much. And what do I end up doing? I've got a (free) base pipe in one hand and a fifth of Courvoisier in the other--in a room all alone, by myself. Loving no one. And doubting if anyone loved me," he said about that night in June of 1980 when over half of his body was burned.

"My heart went out to you. Your eyes mirrored such profound sadness. This hurt me very much, you, who brought so much humor to the American people. You are handsome, have money, but not love. My family and I love you, "a viewer from Shreveport, Louisiana wrote.

From Laurenton, New York, a lady wrote, "I was moved to tears by your candid, honest and open revelation of your inner feelings on the Tony Brown Show. At first, I thought it was staged, but later I changed my opinion and was captivated by the hurt in your eyes. I could feel that you have experienced much pain. Your eyes show how unfair life has been and how tiring and difficult it has been when you were trying to be funny and 'on stage' all of the time. I like the new person you have become. You are now a man who is satisfied and can live with himself."

"I could never explain what has possessed me to write this letter, but I have, and may it be God's will for me to write many more. Whatever triggered this off was while I was watching you on Tony Brown's Rap Show. Please don't get me wrong, I'm not feeling so much as pity for you, but understanding exactly what you are going through," came from Brooklyn, New York.

One woman from Parkersburg, West Virginia remembered meeting Pryor in New York in 1979. She had just had her purse stolen and he gave her cab fare to get back to her hotel. "There's so much sadness and pain in your eyes. I hope it soon disappears. I just wanted to say thank you again for your kindness when I was so frightened. And I'm glad you're finally finding happiness. Be good to yourself. You deserve it."

"I felt compelled to write, although I'm frankly not certain why. One can suppose that while I have certainly admitted your talent in the past, I have never truly felt you were 'for real.' This was not the case, however, when viewing this most recent interview You displayed an inkling of depth and sensitivity that was quite moving," was the message from Schaumburg, Illinois.

One viewer from Arlington Heights, Illinois said: "I felt so sad for you. You have made such wonderfully funny, yet touching, movies and yet now you are so unhappy. It made me wish I could just give you a big hug. You should know that a lot of people really do love you, not just because you're funny, or have a lot of money, but because you're a special person."

Another letter from Davenport, Iowa echoed that thought. "I just wanted him to know someone loves and cares for him, because he's Richard. Not because he's rich and famous. He needs to know money can't buy true friends."

Richard Pryor told me that the letters he received when he was in the hospital helped him get through that awful ordeal. Although his brother is rich and famous, he's still our brother and he needs our good thoughts and letters.

Pryor closed by saying: "I look at it like this: a 44-year-old, burnt-up---Black, uneducated man, living in racist, so-called 'racist' America'; how is it possible that I am where I am unless there's a God? What purpose is God? I have no idea. It's just that I'm grateful. There's nothing I could have done to make this happen. It's not just my doing.

Weekly Spinal Column
Doctor Gordon Rody

Natural Health Without Drugs

Deep within the center of your spine travels the nerve impulses that control every function of your body.

Many times people come to our offices having never been to a chiropractor before. Many are surprised to find that we don't prescribe pills or shots to submerge pain. Chiropractic de-emphasizes the use of drugs and re-emphasizes our body's own natural ability to heal itself.

The Central Nervous System provides the communication network traveling from the brain through the spine to all parts of the body. If one of the spinal vertebrae pinches a nerve the instructional message is cut off and the affected parts disfunctions.

The symptoms from this disfunction may be relatively minor or major depending on exactly what has been affected. Drugs unnaturaly hide problems with the body, while chiropractic allows the body to heal itself.

It is easy enough to see our self-healing mechanisms at work when we injure ourselves. For example, a cut will heal and bones will knit. Chiropractic goes to the source of the problems by adjusting the vertebrae in the spine that are blocking nerve messages. Restoring proper nerve supply to all organs, glands and tissues allows the body to heal itself and fight disease naturally.

Since the discovery of chiropractic in 1895, no one needs to feel that he or she is destined to be sick all their life. Remember "Where there is life there is hope and he who has hope has everything!!" Give Chiropractic a try.

Yours for better health, Dr. Rody.

To The Black Community

Today, a concerned citizen brought this letter to our office. We feel that it is of importance to ... minorities. If you are concerned, let the TNT know!!

Last year I wrote a letter, which was not published, detailing my anger caused by the News Tribune Staff not including one picture of past Black athletes in your Centennial Edition, 100 years (Sports Town) or feature article on Black Graduates in your special Section E on Graduations. This lack of positive Black role models in your paper indicates to me a posture of benign neglect of the Black comunity which hurts us specifically and the broader Tacoma-Pierce County Community in general.

It hurts the minority community because it says to parents and siblings of Black Graduating Seniors, there's not one of your ethnic background "good enough" to merit special recognition. Additionally, it hurts the broader community because it doesn't allow them the opportunity to focus on the positive side of Black youth, indeed all youth.

This year you have the opportunity to correct the injustice done to the pluralistic society represented by Pierce County.

May I suggest you contact the various Tacoma High School administrators and solicit names of Black candidates. Additionally, a call to the Black Teachers' Association, Black Ministerial Alliance, Urban League, or NAACP might turn up many deserving young men and women.

I genuinely care for most all people and am not advocating you slight any athlete (Sports Town 100 yrs.) or graduates (Class of 84). But I am saying that Blacks have contributed to this town; all of our children need positive role models and heroes; and we are clearly not invisible, so include us this time.

TO BE EQUAL

By John E. Jacob

Jobs Are Top Priority

Unemployment and underemployment are at the rootof virtually all of the problems afflicting black communities and the cities in which they are located. With jobs and paychecks, people can buy food, housing, and health care. They can educate their kids and provide them with aspirations and role models.

But without jobs and decent wges, people can only turn to inadequate government programs that enable survival and little else.

The recovery was supposed to end unemployment but it hasn't reached blacks, whose jobless rates remain over double the white rate. White male unemployment is around seven percent but black unemployment is stuck in the 17-18 percent range.

And it's really a lot higher. If the rates included discouraged workers who have given up hunting for jobs that aren't there and part-time workers who want full-time jobs, then true black unemployment is closer to thirty percent.

Can you imagine the outcry if white unemployment was anywhere near that level? Before it got even close to that point there would be massive job creation programs. But what is clearly unacceptable for whites is tolerated when it affects blacks. This double standard can't be allowed to continue, for it is eroding the viability of the cities and of the entire economy.

It is also undermining the black family. Twenty-five years ago, 75 percent of both black and white men were working. In 1982, about the same percentage of white men were working, but only 54 percent of black men had jobs.

Anyone concerned about the rise of single-parent families in the black community doesn't have to look further for the reason. Men with jobs and the ability to exercise their economic responsibilities can't raise families, a problem worsened by welfare rules that won't help two-parent families.

While youth unemployment is a serious problem in its own right, no one should think that the sky-high black jobless rate is solely a teenage problem. Adults make up well over three-fourths of the nearly four million black jobless.

It is urgent for action to be taken to reduce teenage unemployment--now above fifty percent for blacks. But that is just a part of the overall problem of black employment. Important as it is to provide work and training opportunities for young people, it is just as important to make sure their parents have work too.

In fact, the joblessness of a parent tells youngsters that they have no future in our economy. So job creation programs that put parents to work may be the key to improved educational performance and career aspirations for their children.

The state of permanent economic depression in the black community can be broken through federal job creation programs, a public works program to rebuild the deteriorating infrastructure, and a stronger commitment by the private sector to affirmative action.

It is time to restore a targeted public service job program, aimed at the urban disadvantaged. The last such venture, CETA, was ended in the midst of a recession, leaving over a million people a year stranded without the temporary jobs and income it provided.

And a large-scale infrastructure repair program is needed to restore deteriorating roads, bridges and streets and to refurbish all sorts of essential public structures. That would create millions of jobs in the private sector, including many jobs for unskilled and semi-skilled workers who could learn new trades and skills in the process.

Unemployment is the nation's number one enemy. Overcoming it should be our number one priority.

Go Ahead To New Lotto Camp

"Lotto," the new Washington State Lottery on-line game featuring large weekly jackpots, begins statewide on July 15, 1984, with the first drawing scheduled for July 21. Approval came at the June 1 meeting of the Washington State Lottery Commission.

Popular in Canada and in eleven other states, Lotto offers the possibility of huge weekly jackpots with an exact match of six out of six numbers.

To play, players select six out of the numbers one to forty. Winning numbers for each week are then chosen at a special Lotto drawing on Saturday of that week, televised at 7 pm.

Players win smaller prize amounts by matching four of six or five of six numbers.

All winners in each prize category-- jackpot, secondand tird-- share that prize amount equally.

Since the game is pari-mutuel, the exact amount of te jackpot changes each week.

The minimum jackpot guaranteed by the Lottery is $500,000, which will purchase an annuity paying over $1 million in equal installments over twenty years if won by a single person.

Additionally, Lotto has a special feature enabling the jackpot to go even higher.

If no player picks the exact six numbers in any given week, th entire jackpot will accrue to the next week's prize. The dramatic effects of this feature recently came to national attention when a couple in Canada won #13 million and four people shared a $22 million jackpot in New York.

Though Washington's jackpots are not expected to reach those proportions, prizes easily could run into the multimillions.

"Lotto will be a very special game with significant implications for the state," said Lottery Director Robert Boyd.

"In other states with Lotto, revenue from Lotto sales surpasses that from instant or other on-line games. We feel the prospects are excellent for revenue to the General Fund from Lotto to reach $20 million in the first year."

N.O.W. Meeting June 21, 1984

The June program will consist of a review and discussion of The Right To Lifers, by Connie Paige Patti Smith of The Booksellers will lead the discussion.
